Facilities for Women

Counseling

The institution has a well-defined student mentoring system to counsel the students in an effective manner and uses an active counseling system to provide counseling to students, including gender sensitive issues. The institution offers free yoga training for all staff and students.

Considering the need for the professional counselling service, the department of social work, is rendering an exclusive counselling service to students in need since 2013 through the SVASTIKA student counselling cell. If a student is identified to have severe mental health issues, they are referred to the appropriate service from SVASTIKA

Other Facilities
